Insurgents In Spain Claim More Success

Heaviest Battle Of Spanish Civil War Rages On Without Abatement

SAY 106 LOYALIST PLANES SHOT DOWN

Several Thousand Dead Are Reported On Battlefield In Madrid Sector

(International News Service)

SALAMANCA, Spain, July 27.—Widespread insurgent successes on Madrid's western front were claimed today in an official Rebel communiqué as the heaviest battle of the civil war raged on without abatement.

In the Brunete sector, said the statement, the insurgent advance continued and a number of military objectives were attained. Loyalist counter-attacks, launched in a desperate effort to stem the Rebel advance, were "heavily repulsed" and 50 government tanks were destroyed.

Several Thousand Dead

Following the recent fighting on the already bloodsoaked battlefields of Brunete, the communiqué stated. The ground is covered with several thousand government dead.

According to reports here, the famous Loyalist "Lisier" Battalion was virtually wiped out in the fighting at Brunete, which now is in Rebel hands.

Government troops were forced to withdraw to the forest zone north of the town, which was reduced to little more than smoking ashes.

Planes Shot Down

It was announced 106 Loyalist planes have been shot down on the Madrid front.

According to advices received in Salamanca, several battalions of the Loyalist International Brigade rushed to the Madrid front, but suffered heavy losses in the ensuing battle.

Reports indicated that fighting is (Continued On Page Two)

One Fugitive From Rockview Captured

(International News Service)

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., July 27.—Frank Burke of Erie, one of three convicts who escaped from Rockview penitentiary Saturday by driving a stolen car through a hole they had cut in the wire fence, was captured last night in Centre county, state motor patrolmen here revealed today.

Search for the other two fugitives, Steve Masternak of Pittsburgh and Raymond Hill of Franklin county, was concentrated upon in the same mountainous region. Burke was picked up by two members of the Phillipsburg patrol between Sandy Ridge and Phillipsburg, about 40 miles from the penitentiary where they made their daring escape.

A posse of about 50 officers, penitentiary guards and others pursued the trail of Masternak and Hill.

Burke was lodged in the Centre county jail, where he must await court appearance. An injury to his leg forced him to leave his two companions, he said a short time after his re-arrest.

He admitted that when searchers were beating the brush in the area near Tyrone Sunday they came within a few feet of where they were hiding, but then passed on.

Woman Is Strangled As Love Affair Climax

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 27.—A red patent leather belt, drawn taut around the lovely white throat of a wealthy Jackson Heights matron, today ended in death her illicit love affair with a jobless automobile salesman eight years her junior.

The slain woman was Mrs. Florence Jackson, 37, mother of two small children.

Charged with her murder is Stanley A. Martin, Jr., 29, unemployed salesman. He is the father of one child and is separated from his wife.

"She asked me to kill her," Martin sobbed to police. "Florence argued we were both married and it was impossible for us to go on."

"So I took a red leather belt from her dress, put it around her neck—and pulled and pulled."

Pleasure Trip Ends In Death

CRASH INTO REAR OF TRUCK TODAY

Tragedy Happens Near Mercer; Nathan Fleckenstine Seriously Injured

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., July 27.—Death, with pen dripping in blood, wrote this early this morning to a young couple's pleasure trip to Erie.

Miss Dorothy Bruce, 21, of Salem, Pa., is dead; her companion Nathan Fleckenstine, 26, of Bloomsburg, lies seriously injured in Mercer Cottage hospital.

Returning from Erie where they had been guests at a banquet they were on the Perry highway headed south for Rochester, Pa., where they were both employed. Death overtook them two and a half miles north of Mercer when their car, with Fleckenstine at the wheel, crashed into the rear of a large truck and trailer going the same direction, and driven by John Mangold, of Homewood.

Cause Is Mystery

Fleckenstine, at the hospital where he has painful and serious lacerations of face and hands, could give no reason for the disaster, unless it was that he momentarily fell asleep.

The sound of the smash-up was heard for some distance and Clyde Workley, who lives near-by, rushed to the scene. He took the two victims to Mercer, one to the hospital, the other to a morgue. Miss Bruce had been thrown through the windshield by the impact and instantly killed.

Although Bloomsburg is Mr. Fleckenstine's home town and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fleckenstine, reside there, he stayed at the Penn-Beaver hotel at Rochester and was assistant-superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad there.

Monday evening he and Miss Bruce, who is also employed in Rochester, were guests at a banquet in Lawrence Hotel, Erie, along with Mr. Fleckenstine's father and mother. The young couple left Erie at midnight, and the crash occurred at about 3:30 a. m.

J. H. Utley Construction Company Of Detroit Gets Award

OPERATIONS TO START IMMEDIATELY

Pennsylvania Power Company announced today that the contract has been let on construction of the building to house the steam power plant at the West Pittsburg site.

The contractor, the J. H. Utley Construction Company, of Detroit, has already moved much of its machinery to the ground and will start operations immediately.

It is expected that work will proceed rapidly during the summer months and it is expected that the plant will be ready for operation about November 1 of next year.

Steel piling is already on the ground and will probably be driven before any other work is started. This piling will form a complete box around the sub-structure, protecting the plant from high water and also providing a solid foundation for the heavy machinery to be installed in the plant.

TOKYO, July 27.—A virtual massacre in which Japanese aerial bombs and machine gun bullets "almost wiped out" 800 Chinese troops at Tungchow plunged the North China crisis into its most critical stage today.

With no word here as to final decision of Chinese authorities regarding the Japanese ultimatum for withdrawal of troops, the latest violence broke out when supposedly

This made it necessary, according to the Japanese version, for Japanese troops, assisted by airplanes, to "almost wipe out" the Chinese regiment.

Congressman Gives Forecast

Chairman Of Appropriations Committee Predicts Budget Balance In 1938

HUGE NEW TAX BILL WILL NOT BE NEEDED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The federal government will not only balance its budget in the next year but in 1939 will begin to cut down the huge national debt of $36,000,000,000, Rep. Clarence J. Cannon (D) of Missouri, acting chairman of the House Appropriations committee, predicted today.

The administration's plans, he said, will make unnecessary a huge new tax bill next year, as predicted by critics of the administration's spending policies.

Presenting a bird's-eye picture of the administration's present and future plans, the acting head of the committee which originates all appropriations bills said:

1. Government revenues since April 5 have exceeded estimates, and there is every indication that they will continue to rise.
2. A flat 10 per cent cut in appropriations was unnecessary because it was found that President Roosevelt had wide authority to impound funds.
3. There is every indication that congress next winter can still further cut relief appropriations.
4. A layman's balance of the budget will be achieved in the fiscal year which began July 1, even though cost of government will be around $7,000,000,000.

measures in North China were necessary "for defense and protection of Japanese nationals and maintenance of communications."

Meanwhile, further decisive action in North China was foreseen as a result of unanimous support of the cabinet for the armies report

War Preparations

War preparations rolled ominously forward throughout Japan. At railway stations scenes of elaborate and colorful farewells continued to be enacted. Relatives, mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts bade good-bye to soldiers and reservists called to the colors, many of whom are to be sent to North China—and perhaps to war.

In Tokyo, the war ministry compound was a virtual beehive of activity as cash and supplies, donated by the public for the army, poured in.

Among these supplies were "comfort bags"—small receptacles in which soldiers may carry small personal luxuries and necessities—made by Japan's taxi dancehall hostesses.

General Sugiyama, vice chief of the general staff office, stated in a speech in parliament:

"The Japanese garrisons in North China decided to take punitive measures of self-defense against Chinese troops. The Japanese war office decided to take corresponding measures."

"Florence said it was impossible for us to go on."

Martin then told of removing Mrs. Jackson's belt, putting it around her neck and "I pulled and pulled."

"She said nothing," he continued. "She didn't even cry out."

"When she was still, I drove back to Flushing."

After they had identified the slain woman police notified her husband, Bert Jackson, high-salaried salesman.

He went to the morgue and identified his wife's body. Showing no sign of emotion, he walked out, refusing to talk to reporters.

It was reported that Mrs. Martin is ill in a hospital.

Nuisance Hearing Continued By Court

Found That There Are Some Heirs Interested In The Barbour Property

In the matter of an old building which is an alleged nuisance at the northeast corner of Green and Wood streets, a hearing which was to have been held at Lawrence county court yesterday afternoon was continued for the reason that it was found that some heirs are interested in the property.

The action was started by the City of New Castle when it was reported that the building is unoccupied, the rendezvous of children and dangerous.

The title appears in the name of Wallace F. and Ruth Barbour, but it has been assessed in the name of Mary L. McCracken, whom it is found the Barbours are deceased, but that there are some heirs interested, who have a right to be heard. The hearing has accordingly been postponed until Monday, August 2, at 9 o'clock.

Chief of police Ralph A. Criswell stated today he would prefer a charge of larceny against Willie Henderson, alias Sleepy Henderson, colored, who entered the Lawrence Laundry and stole a watch from a man by the name of Ussellon. The watch was in Ussellon's vest which was hanging in a locker. He was arrested by Officers Golis and Shepp.

A man who gave the name of John Manosky was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital last night where five stitches closed a wound in his head. Lieutenant Suber and Detective Young claimed Manosky who had been drinking told them he had been hit in the head by a man in John street.

Report was received by police yesterday afternoon that Edward Kamper, Cleveland, visiting a Pennsylvania avenue family, was bitten by a dog along the Big Run. The boys were said to have been in an orchard and the dog was let loose. He is in the New Castle hospital. The owner, whose name was not obtained, was ordered to tie up the dog.

Howling dogs, mischievous boys, men who caused disturbances, resulted in calls for service to the police department last night. The officers also cruised around homes which have been closed by occupants who are out of the city. However, no serious breaches of the law took place during the past 24 hours, it was reported.

Confusion Reigns

Assertion by Japanese officials that the ultimatum specifying that all units of the 37th division of China's famous 29th route army leave the Peiping-Wangping zone by noon today, had been accepted by Chinese authorities left the situation in a state of great confusion.

No immediate confirmation of the Japanese statement was forthcoming from Chinese sources. They repeated that the situation was "hopeless" and many indications pointed to Chinese determination to come to a showdown with Japan.

As the Japanese claims were made prior to actual expiration of the time limit, observers here waited with keen interest for final word from Chinese authorities on their decision.

Meanwhile, a Japanese military representative verbally assured the secretary of the American embassy here that the Japanese will not bombard actually or by artillery, the Peiping area.

Col. Marston, in charge of arrangements for protecting the embassy, declared there was no need to call Americans into the legation quarter at present.

Marines In Defensive Positions United States Marines and British, French, Italian and Japanese troops are maintaining their defensive positions while Japanese civilians are entering the legation quarter.

The influx of Japanese civilians into the quarter was carried out on orders of Japanese military officials. Meanwhile, American embassy secretaries, military attaches and the embassy guard commander conferred on the situation of Americans in Peiping in view of possible emergencies with expiration of the Japanese ultimatum.

Despite estimates that as many as 75 Japanese soldiers had been killed or wounded in the fighting within Peiping, Japanese authorities claimed Japanese casualties at the Changmen gate amounted to only one killed and 10 wounded.

Japanese officials also announced that Japanese casualties in yesterday's fighting at Langfang in which hundreds of Chinese were reported killed, had amounted to four Japanese killed and seven wounded.

Fighting Spreads Early today the fighting at Peiping spread to other points, causing some circles to express fears that Japanese troops might open general hostilities against Chinese troops in and around Peiping.

Strong detachments of Japanese troops were reported less than a mile outside the southwest and east gates of Peiping.

Martial law was reinforced throughout the city.

Contrary to earlier reports, there was no major fighting today around the Wampung area apart from sporadic sniping.

The fighting inside Peiping began when Japanese streamed through in motor trucks.

Suddenly a strong force of Chinese rushed up, closed the gate and attacked the Japanese already inside, numbering 10 truck loads.

Three of the trucks were wrecked by hand grenades. Chinese officials asserted the Japanese opened fire and that Chinese guarding the gate dropped the grenades. Japanese authorities claimed the Chinese flung the grenades first.

The Japanese, after a brief skirmish, took refuge in a nearby temple, where for a time they were surrounded by Chinese troops and 1,600 armed Chinese plainclothes police. The entire section of the city was cordoned off and plunged into darkness.

Infuriated Japanese officials termed the ruse an ambush and "utmost treachery."

Loyalists Dig In

Madrid, July 27.—Determined to halt the insurgent advance on the Brunete sector of the capital Western front, Loyalist troops hurriedly dug in southeast of Villanueva de la Canada today on the right bank of the Rio Alcala.

Officials here admitted the loyalists had been forced to retire under fierce rebel attacks.

The insurgents continued their attacks on the Villanueva de la Canada area, but, according to officials here, the strength of their counter-offensive "apparently is beginning to fail." Insurgent infantry supported by light tanks, were driven back.

Eighty insurgent planes attacked the loyalist lines but government anti-aircraft guns brought down four of them. Government planes carried out raids west of Madrid, bringing down a rebel bomber in flames.

The three occupants of the rebel craft, described by authorities here as Germans, were burned to death.

CONFUSION IN SITUATION IN NORTH CHINA

claimed today that Chinese authorities had accepted terms of Japan's ultimatum for demilitarization of the Peiping-Wangping zone.

But Chinese officials, elated by success of the Peiping ruse, called the situation here "hopeless."

Reports reached Peiping that some 400 or 500 Chinese were killed and wounded as they fought off Japanese attempts to disarm them.

These troops were reported to be members of the 29th route army garrisoned at Tangchow. Advises said they were bombed by Japanese planes and machine-gunned from the ground.

Following the battle within the walls of Peiping, in which estimates of Japanese casualties ran as high as 75, Japanese military strength in the North China area was rapidly increased.

Japanese air strength was doubled with arrival of 30 war planes at Tientsin.

LATESS-BONFIELD WEDDING IN CHURCH

A pretty wedding ceremony, marked by simplicity, was that which took place Saturday morning in St. Vitus church, when Miss Ida Latess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Latess of 314 Vance street, became the bride of Joseph Bonfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ninzi Bonfield, of 401 Cascade street, at 9:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMila officiated, celebrating high nuptial mass. The single ring service was used and the vows were pledged before a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

The church was artistically decorated with tall standards of the season's blooms, outlined with graceful palms and ferns.

Preceding the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. Elizabeth Lacko, church organist, played a program of nuptial music.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was most attractive in her wedding gown of a white lace creation, redingote style, over white satin. The sleeves were long and fitted, caught with a snug band at the wrist. The high neckline was set off with a Peter Pan collar and button front to the high waistline. She wore a veil of real lace with a halo crown of seeded pearls. Her accompaniments were white, and she carried a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley tied with matching streamers.

Her cousin, Miss Angeline Perro, of Youngstown, was her maid of honor and only attendant. She, too, was stunning in her gown of blue mousseline de soie made of simple lines, with a "V" neckline. Pete Micco served as best man.

A congratulatory period followed immediately afterwards and later the bride party returned to the groom's home where a wedding breakfast was served. Places were marked for thirty guests at a table attractively decorated in all white appointments, with a large tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom forming the centerpiece.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Bonfield departed on an extended motor trip to Cleveland, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Canada. Upon their return, they will take up residence at 401 Cascade street. For traveling, Mrs. Bonfield was attired in a green print dress with accompaniments of white. Her shoulder bouquet harmonized.

The groom graduated from New Castle high school in the year of 1935 and has been affiliated with the Lehigh Portland Cement company.

A number of parties have been given in their honor since the news of the engagement has been revealed. They have received many beautiful gifts, further testifying to the esteem in which the couple is held.

Guests from out of town included John Rigoli and Samuel Pestoli, of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Annie Bruno, of Cleveland, O., and Miss Mary Perro of Youngstown.

THE HONOR SYSTEM IN FISHING

IT SHOULD be gratifying to Pennsylvania's true sportsmen that the state, after four seasons, is satisfied with the honor system it established at its prize fishing hole along Spring Creek, a mile and a half of prime fishing water near Bellefonte, reflects the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Fishermen are allowed to visit the stream five times in the season from the middle of May to the middle of July, using only barbless hooks and artificial lures. They may catch fifteen fish daily if they wish, or can, but must throw back unharmed all but two.

An honor system is nothing startling for bona fide devotees of Ike Walton, who long have adhered to their own rigid codes. Yet the State Fish Commission has now expressed pleasure anew that even neophytes throw back most of the fish they catch with barbless hooks at this trout paradise. This season 9335 fish were caught, but only 4027 were taken home, so that restocking will not be necessary in this experimental water.

It is likely the compulsory registration of anglers, their catches and the fish they restored to the water kept some enthusiasts bound to written and unwritten codes of the rod. However, it is cheering that this sport-for-sport's sake innovation is receiving such splendid co-operation.

LIFE CAN BEGIN AT 74

Dr. Mary E. Woolley, who retired a few weeks ago from the presidency of Mount Holyoke College, which post she held for thirty-seven years, is almost gaily gleeful at the prospect of beginning a new life, not isolating herself to reflect upon her nearly four-score years as a finished volume. "Why shouldn't one start life at seventy-four as well as at forty?" she queries.

Dr. Woolley's name is at the head of many committees, commissions and leagues for human welfare. She is moving from South Hadley, Massachusetts, to a cottage at Westport, New York, there to have "a busy time, but I hope a rational time," reading, writing her autobiography and other books and articles pressing the cause of world peace.

There is something mellowing and quickening in the prospect of a silver-haired woman who drops her pedagogical duties at a pioneer woman's college to offer a broader world the ripened philosophies she surely accumulated on the campus. It is inspiring that there are occasional men and women of seventy-four, or more, who start life thus anew, changing grooves and perhaps pace, yet enhancing their added fields with the universally applicable principles developed elsewhere.

TOO MANY YES-MEN

Many are the evil influences said to threaten democracy. For a place among them one is inclined to nominate the yes-man!

A statesman is placed in high office by the votes of admiring fellow-citizens who see in him an embodiment of all this particular office needs. Having gone through a popular campaign, he assumes his duties with impressions fresh. He knows what people are thinking, and what they want him to do.

Then, according to precedent, he surrounds himself with a secretariat and a group of personal and official advisers. They determine what he shall interview, what letters shall reach his desk and what newspaper comment shall come to his attention. They become the administration's super yes-men.

A yes-man tells his chief what he thinks the chief will want to hear; never what he thinks would give his chief real concern. The favorable reports, the flattery, the adulation, sail straight through to the executive desk. The adverse criticism founders on the office door sill.

Every big executive should have among his advisers one or two men whose business is to bring the boss nothing but the bad news. They should comb his constituency for words of condemnation, criticisms of his policies, denunciations of his acts, one, two and three-syllable indictments of his character; and dump the whole collection on his desk immediately after breakfast each day.

Let the customary yes-men be matched by a few no-men! It would be good for the country, good for democracy and good for the executives, now too much protected from unpleasant facts.

Had President Roosevelt been adequately informed of the state of public opinion on the supreme court issue at the time of Senator Robinson's death, he might not have insisted to "My Dear Alben" that the fight for the bill go on. And that bit of information would have saved a big heartache—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHURCH INFLUENCE HELPS

While a boy on the farm, I attended church with my family. I am sure this rural church and the two other churches of that little town, which I also attended occasionally, had a very wholesome influence on the community. Perhaps the greatest influence was not from the sermons preached or songs sung. The folks came together to worship, incidentally to meet one another. They put on their best clothes and manners. In those days we looked forward to Sunday for the social contacts attendance at Sunday school or church afforded. Today, of course, church and Sunday school attendance in rural places don't have the social lure of the horse and buggy days. Nevertheless, there are values worth conserving.

My immediate family usually spend the summer in another rural area where we attend the rural church. Fine wholesome folk in that community, and real dirt farmers. And this church seems to have almost as much hold upon the farmers and their families there as it had 20 years ago, strange as this may seem.

Three congregations worship there alternating their services, many of each faith attending the services of the others. Since these three faiths are as nearly alike as three peas in a pod, it is too bad they don't go together and form a community congregation, hire a resident pastor and put on a more effective program. It might be desirable for them to espouse a certain one of the particular faiths for organization purposes and the like.

Community Church Developing

The community church is developing in many a rural community and it is about the only hope for the future of the rural church. By and by there will be many more community churches in towns and cities. It always puzzles and irks me to see new churches going up near so many other churches of very similar faith that still have heavy mortgages on them, and ministers poorly paid.

Parents who live in rural areas, especially those who have long attended a church, can well afford to help keep the old country church in repair and support the religious program with their money and attendance. The rural church obviously has great value for conserving the ideals and best traditions of the community. Also true of any other community. The greatest need of the rural church, and of most city churches, is to provide a program that will appeal to the young folk and afford more social opportunities for them under good environment.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A HINT TO THE WISE

There are probably a great many motorists in New Castle who are planning a summer vacation with the assistance of the family car. Many of these people have a very good working knowledge of the automobile—they know what goes on under the hood of the car. They are acquainted with carburetors, fuel pumps, distributors, impellers, electric gadgets and all that, but many of them know nothing about a "vapor lock."

There are many little dramas enacted on the roads on hot summer days, particularly in a hilly country. The scene is generally laid near the crest of any long steep grade. The characters are a perspiring driver, vainly fumbling under the hood of a stalled car, and from one to four fellow passengers offering an infinite number of his or her suggestions. The engine jugs won't go and what's the matter?

Nine times out of ten it means that the fuel line between the fuel pump and the carburetor has become heated and the gasoline is being vaporized before it enters the carburetor, thus causing an air-pocket, the "vapor lock," and a stalled car.

The writer had this trouble last summer and learned a lot about "vapor locks." He found the only way he could fight the vicious thing was to pour water carefully over the fuel line of the gasoline pump, cooling it off, following which the car could be started and it would run until the heat caused the same thing over again. The writer knew that the engine was entirely too hot because the water in the radiator was not very hot and night after night he tried to find a mechanic who could find out what was the matter with the cooling system, without avail.

However, cars having a good cooling system, performing its functions properly, are liable to "vapor locks" because the fuel line from pump to carburetor is too close to the exhaust and the exhaust gets very hot. Automobile manufacturers today are trying to cure this by insulating the fuel line more thoroughly from the heat of the engine. Nevertheless, if your engine becomes affected with "vapor lock" a permanent remedy may be effected by placing an asbestos covering around the exhaust and between the fuel pump and exhaust, a one-sixteen inch gasket between the carburetor and intake manifold flanges, or by having percolating vents for the carburetor bowl cover.

In any event, you who are about to climb into your motor car for a summer vacation had better take a canteen and keep it filled at all times with water.

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—The sofa and one of the upholstered chairs in my living room are somewhat shabby—both as to upholstery and wooden frames. At present I cannot invest in new furniture and wondered if substantially made slipcovers fitted by an upholsterer would be in good taste for winter wear as well as summer. J. H.

Answer—Many people whose furniture is showing wear and tear prefer to have it dressed all year round in slip covers that can be easily removed and cleaned rather than go to the trouble and expense of having it reupholstered.

This should never be done to furniture having beautiful or interesting frames; nor should any kind of furniture in a formal drawing room be so covered, except in summer.

Dear Miss Markel—How should chaise-longue be pronounced? READER.

Answer—As if it were spelled shaze-long. It is a French word meaning a "long chair." It is not a "lounge," as is popularly supposed.

BRITISH VIEW OF US

Here is a quotation from the Wall Street Journal, which gives another quotation, as you can see: "Writing as of the end of June, before the current market recovery hit its stride, the London banking firm of Leopold Joseph & Sons expressed an unusual view of the labor situation in the United States. After mentioning that the strike movement is really a battle for belated recognition of a rational trade unionism in America, and declaring incidentally that it was bound to succeed in the long run, the firm says the progress of this movement might have some effect for the short run. However, fundamentally the prospect is reassuring enough...for the long run there is a great deal of scope for another major advance...the social revolution which trade unionism represents for America is in itself a reason for long-term optimism, for it means a better distribution of purchasing power."

Buffalo Food Workers Still Out On Strike

Matter Of Closed Shop Is Only Demand Not Met By Employers

FOOD SHORTAGE IS THREATENED

(International News Service)
BUFFALO, N. Y., July 27.—The Rev. John P. Boland, chairman of the state labor relations board, today advised representatives of striking food workers and employers that arbitration of the labor dispute has failed.

This disclosure by the board chairman at a meeting of opposing factions dimmed hopes for early settlement of the strike which has threatened the city's food supply.

Want Closed Shop
Employers, representing owners of 44 food warehouses, had met strikers' demands for higher wages, shorter hours and improved working conditions, but refused to grant a closed shop proposal.

Samuel Licata, business agent for the strikers, declared:

"The fight has just begun. It's a closed shop or nothing."
Meanwhile picketing of warehouses and packing houses was redoubled as strikers sought to dry up any leaks of food to stores already feeling the pinch of a food shortage.

Many stores are already without butter, eggs and sugar.
The eight-point proposal, offered by 44 wholesale food companies, called for a modified form of closed shop.

Will Not Recede
After voting to turn down the proposed settlement, the strikers unanimously voted not to recede.

Third Period At Camp East Brook Is Opened Monday

Last Twelve-Day Period Of Season Underway; Half Hundred Girls Arrive

Fifty girls arrived at Camp East Brook Monday afternoon for the third and final twelve-day camp period of the season. Their ages range from 12 to 18 years, about half of the number are "stay-overs" from the last period, and the rest are new.

They were first assigned to their cabins, then invited to the swimming pool where they were tested as to the swimming ability and labeled as tadpoles, frogs or fish.

Then came dinner, and afterwards election of Gerry Flick, Louise Shaffer, Helen Hays, and Carolyn Dawson (of Edgewood) as captains of the mushball teams. They will choose their players and names and prepare for the mushball tournament and final demonstration to take place on the last Friday night of camp.

Around the campfire last night the counselors were introduced and the program director, Miss Helen Cooper, outlined the plans for the period. A marshmallow roast and singing led by the music counselor, Miss Anna Marie Horst, of Edgewood, completed the first day of camp life. Miss Horst plays an accordion to accompany the dancing on the lawn and the singing.

This morning after inspection of cabins the honor sign went to the cabin of which Miss Catherine Cooper (Robin) is chief. To one of the girls who bunk there went the honor of being officer-of-the-day—she is ringing all the bells calling campers to classes, meals, and so forth.

Classes, including swimming, music, dancing, handcraft, archery and badminton, were instituted this morning.

Harrisville Man Remains Critical

GROVE CITY, July 27.—Chester Adams, 40, of Harrisville, is still alive in the Osteopathic Hospital, although still in a most critical condition following the highway accident early Saturday morning on the Grove City-Harrisville road when his companion, James McDonald, 60, was instantly killed.

Mr. Adams, suffering from fractures of the skull, arm and leg, was not expected to survive, but his condition showed a slight improvement today.

Thomas Smathers, 207 Meyer avenue, an instructor in the George Washington Junior high school, is confined to the New Castle hospital with a sprained back which he sustained Monday evening about 7:45 o'clock, at a gasoline station located at 1423 Moravia street.

Mr. Smathers incurred the injury in attempting to lift the back end of an automobile while filling a gas tank.

Notice

I wish to inform the public that I will carry on my husband's undertaking business at the same location, 245 West Falls street. I will have a competent funeral director and embalmer ready to answer calls at all times, and hope to continue on with the same high quality service that my husband rendered.

New York Sees Torrid Campaign

Greatest Mayoralty Election In Years Looms In Great Metropolis

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 26.—Who will be the next mayor of New York? That's the question agitating the minds of big-time politicians—not only in New York City but in Washington, D. C., as well.

Will the dynamic Fiorello H. La Guardia, the incumbent (elected in 1933 on the Fusion ticket), be re-elected?

Will one of the two Democratic candidates who have tossed their hats in the ring—Grover A. Whalen and Royal S. Copeland—beat him? Before these questions are answered at the polls New York's 7,000,000 population will be regaled with one of the hottest political fights in the city's history. Into the conflict will be drawn national as well as local issues—specifically the New Deal—and such personalities as former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Postmaster General James A. Farley and Former Mayor James J. Walker.

Tammany already is in the thick of the battle. Tammany's candidate is United States Senator Copeland.

Whalen being the choice of the other element of the Democratic party, a wide-open primary fight between Whalen and Copeland is assured.

The primary election will be held September 16.

Sino-Jap Peace Hangs on Rope

A current instance of the strange ways of the East is graphically illustrated by these pictures. At left, you see Wang Len-Chai, Chinese representative, and right, a Japanese officer, as they were lowered by rope into the town of Wangping to confer on terms of mediation in the present crisis between Chinese and Japanese belligerents. The city's gates had been locked at the outbreak of the clash, which threatens to grow into open warfare. (Central Press)

Candidates Pay Nearly $2,000 To Enter Primaries

New Filing Fee System Brings In Total Of $1,857.50 To County

This primary election is going to be on a cash and carry plan. The county gets the cash and the candidates does the carrying. And the cash for candidates petitions paid into the county at the close of filing on Monday July 26 came to just $1,857.50, not quite enough to conduct the election but enough to be worth having in any language.

This year the law requires candidates to put up a cash deposit with their petitions. Whether they win or lose makes no difference, they do not get any part of the money back.

At the last minute Monday afternoon some surprise candidates filed, men whose names had not been mentioned previously. Others who had been expected to file stepped out of the picture at the last moment.

Now that the lists are closed up and the rest of us as taxpayers have $1,857.50 in the till that would not have been there had the law not been changed.

Mississippi Town Celebrates Watermelon Day

(International News Service)
WATER VALLEY, Miss.—Summer time may mean watermelon time but to thousands of visitors August 5 means watermelon day in Water Valley, Miss.

Once a year a special day is set aside in Water Valley for observance of the discovery of a new money crop for the farmers. On this visitors are invited from far and wide to come and help citizens eat watermelons. Fresh, nice, red melons are cut and passed around free to all visitors.

Seven years ago farmers of the vicinity discovered they could make more money growing melons and shipping them to big northern cities than they could raising cotton.

Including in this year's celebration will be a demonstration on how to eat watermelon. The demonstrators will be a group of Mississippi negroes!

Artificial Waves Fail To Refloat Cruiser

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—The navy resorted to artificial wave making today, in a desperate effort to refloat the Cruiser Omaha from its nine-day perch on a coral ledge of Castle Island Light in the Bahamas.

Despite the use of artificial waves, set up by a destroyer thrashing back and forth near the stranded vessel at high speed, this latest of a series of attempts to remove the cruiser from the reef failed.

The Omaha rammed into the reef in only 10 feet of water early Monday a week ago. It was enroute from Central American waters to Charleston, S. C., for overhaul pending a voyage to Spanish waters.

The Destroyer Mahan, one of the most modern type of speedy torpedo destroyers, was pressed into service to create the artificial waves, in the hope that the heavy wash would shake the Omaha loose. As a fleet of naval auxiliary salvage vessels strained at cables hitched to the Omaha, the Mahan was run at high speed back and forth across the beam of the stranded ship. This created a series of heavy waves which battered at the Omaha's hull but failed to budge her.

Corner Gangs Worry Police

New York Cops Are Most Annoyed By Heckling Of Neighborhood Toughs

FIGHT MENACE OF MARIJUANA

By O. O. McIntyre
NEW YORK, July 27.—Metropolitan police find their most annoying hecklers are the corner gangs, in Harlem, Hell's Kitchen and on the lower East Side. Ranging from 16 to 20, they run in packs, like wolves and have a snarling, vindictive hatred for cops. Vincent Coll was one of the ratty breed.

O. O. McIntyre

Often I have watched these toughs as a patrolman rounds into sight. They begin to mutter and huddle together and seldom does an officer pass without being the target for some epithet. Alone, any one of them is a cowardly sneak but gang up they express a boldness. While lack of employment has created many of the hoodlums looking upon raids as special favor. They are able to wangle cigarette, beer and movie money by preying upon the defenseless and often crippled small shopkeepers. It is estimated there are 20,000 in the greater city.

There are types of girls who regard them as glamorous and are willing to join in petty stick ups. Sociologists have found any number of these girls are willing to work and share their hard earned pay just to be known in the neighborhood as Molls.

The talented Helen Hayes appears the stage's most conspicuous example of the city girl and country maid combination. She is one of the most expert of the rumba dancers and the life of gay luncheon parties at "No. 21" and The Colony. But she is also one of the expert home gardeners at her country place near Nyack, a short motor drive from Times Square. She attends all the town's garden club meetings and has won several prizes for her blooms. Every night she motors to her home from the theatre.

The reefer, or cigaret made of the marijuana weed, has become a continued and persistent growing menace among New York school children. So much so the Federation of Women's clubs has started a campaign to offset its insidious influence. The reefer got a toe hold in Harlem several years ago and was particularly favored by so called "hot musicians" in jazz bands. Many say it was the inspiration of swing music and such dances as the Lindy Hop and The Shag. The spread of the drug is due to its cheapness. It is sold around schools by illicit peddlers for five cents a smoke. Once acquired, it is a habit as difficult to break as cocaine.

Many of the practical jokers around the Stork club and "No. 21" especially miss the closing of the burlesque house in Irving Place. It was one of the stunts to jockey an innocent down there for a performance. By handing the ticket seller a couple of dollars with a slip upon which was the name of the guest victim a pair of comedians would make him the target for their jokes—mostly astonishingly risqué. As the banter grew more ribald he would generally sneak, wondering how in the world a couple of low comicks had heard about him.

There was a time in the theatre when Raymond Hitchcock received a note back-stage containing $50 and a request he mention the name of a gentleman in a box. At the opportune moment Hitchcock, mad as fury, stepped out of his part, read the note and added that who-ever presented the note and the $50 could reclaim the cash at the box office and he would be there to sock him in the jaw. Nobody claimed it.

Few liked to have their name mentioned from the stage more than Diamond Jim Brady. He fairly beamed from his front seat on the aisle when reference was made to him or his jewels. And such mentions were good box office for when his name was bandied about auspiciously he would bring friends back again and again to occupy two and three rows of the choicest and most expensive chairs. Brady loved publicity but he cashed in on it more than any man of his time.

They were reminiscing in Gene Bucks' office about the best remembered comic picture. Mine was one by Rea Irvin showing a man at the opera puzzled by a bow from a man in full evening dress a few seats away. All night long he sought to place that face he knew so well but couldn't. Upon stretching out in the barber chair the next morning he opened his eyes and looked up into the face of the stranger at the opera. It was his barber.

Fred Keiser, city building custodian at Sharon, has turned sleuth. He is searching for someone whose shoes match the footprints found on the council chambers. "I'd like to break somebody's neck," was Keiser's comment as he got out his varnish can and brush again. Today he has signs on the doors warning all to "stay out."

Seven-year-old Charles Jaynes, Jr. of Riverside, Calif., is the "youngest ordained minister in the world," according to Rev. B. G. Drake at whose Trinity Tabernacle in Peoria, Ill., the boy was admitted to the ministry last week. But he is "just an ordinary boy," Rev. Drake adds.

"There's nothing he likes better than to put on a play suit and roll around in the sand. But on the pulpit, he's different, then serious, sincere and determined." Charles has delivered more than 1,000 sermons in 130 cities.

The best way, Mrs. Kefauver adds, is to convince the men that they thought of it first.

The court will hear arguments on Wednesday on matters connected with the settlement of the estate of the late William Dunn. Matters involved are income from rentals and the distribution of proceeds.

Many of the candidates who filed their nomination papers during the past few weeks and who had to pay the filing fee under a new law, were interested to know if they would get back the fee provided they did not make the nomination. There is no provision for the return of the money. The work involved in handling the name of an unsuccessful candidate is just as great as though he were successful.

An electric clock has been installed in the law library at the courthouse. There will be no longer any excuse for attorneys not getting to court on time, as they can find out what time it is by calling up the librarian.

Letters testamentary in the estate of the late assistant superintendent of schools, George M. Barker, have been issued by the register and recorder to Carrie E. Barker. Letters of administration in the estate of Marcus S. Janitor Clifford James is off this week on vacation. He expects to take one week now and one later on.

With all the nomination papers now filed at the county commissioners' office, Chief Clerk William A. Eakin will shortly begin the work of assembling them in preparation for the ballots. Under the present system candidates will draw for places on the ballot. It is generally supposed that first place on the ticket is good for a certain number of votes, but this is of doubtful importance, as voters generally have made up their minds for whom they are going to vote before they go in to the booth.

Plan Drive To Boost Old Age Pension Sums

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—The administration's decision to seek minor changes in the social security act today paved the way for a congressional drive to boost old-age pensions.

The effort was expected to meet strong opposition from the administration because it might upset the budget-balancing plans of President Roosevelt.

Chairman Doughton (D) of North Carolina of the house ways and means committee, announced he plans to consider revision of administrative provisions of the social security act at the request of the social security board.

The board abandoned all thought of materially expanding the law at the present session of congress but decided to seek certain changes to make administration more effective. A series of proposed amendments, framed by the board, was submitted to the committee. One of them, it was said, would bring a group of several thousand maritime workers under the law.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Has Meeting Monday

Meeting Shortened By Absence Of President Jones In Washington, D. C.

A delicious dinner served at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, in the Leslie hotel, opened the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. With an attendance of 25 persons present a great deal of routine business was transacted.

The meeting was curtailed due to the fact that the president, Presley Jones, was detained in Washington, D. C. and was unable to attend the session. Jones was in Washington working on a number of projects proposed by the organization. Samples of the cards boosting New Castle were on hand for inspection by the members. These cards are printed on both sides and contain information regarding the advantages of New Castle and naming this town as an excellent place to live.

These cards will be distributed to lodging houses, hotels, gas stations, restaurants and all other places where tourists and visitors might stop.

The police department courtesy cards for visiting motorists have been placed in the hands of Mayor Charles E. McGrath, and it is expected that these will be ready for distribution within a very few days.

Plans regarding the appearance of the marine band in New Castle this fall were also discussed, as were the other matters of importance to New Castle and its citizens.

Next meeting of the Junior Chamber will be held on Monday evening, August 9, in the Castleton hotel. At this meeting it is hoped that the matters which were held up by the delay of the president in Washington will be brought forth for discussion.

Trades And Labor Body In Liverpool District
Makes Plea

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 27.—Trades and labor council has asked Congressman Lawrence E. Imhoff, of St. Clairville, and United States Senators Robert J. Bulkley and Vic Donahue to support the Connery maximum hour and minimum wage in a movement to help the American ceramic industry compete with Japanese ware in the domestic market.

The bill is applicable to all competitive goods entering interstate commerce, whether such goods are produced in the United States or elsewhere.

The measure is now subject to hearings in the House and Senate.

Labor leaders here, center of the pottery industry, said "43 per cent of all household table ware annually purchased in the United States is produced in Japan, where wages and working conditions are lower than any sweatshop conditions existing in the United States."

Bill Martin And Wife Given Real Cowboy Hats

The famous "Brown Derby" was transformed into a more fascinating type of hat for a local couple, who are at present located in Cheyenne, Wyo. They are Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, son and daughter-in-law of Attorney and Mrs. Harvey E. Martin, of Park avenue, this city, being engaged in theatrical work there. The gifts, two white "ten gallon" Stetson hats, were given to Mr. and Mrs. Martin by Wallace Beery, famous actor of the screen, and are typical of what the up-to-date cowgirl and cowboy wear.

Martin, who is better known to folks in New Castle as "Bill," and will be remembered for his successful plays he put on here for the Kiwanis club, "The Showboat," and the honor of having Wallace Beery appear as leading man in his production at Boise, Idaho. The friendship between the actor and

Mr. and Mrs. Martin grew, and when they finally moved on to Cheyenne, Beery gave them the pleasant surprise of making the jump by airplane, from his ranch in Idaho to Cheyenne, and having dinner with the local couple.

As the conversation around the dinner table progressed, it finally ended up that Beery would again play the lead in the forty-first "Frontier Calvacade Day" pageant that Mr. Martin is now directing.

Another noted character in this particular pageant, will be Chief Charlie Redcloud, grandson of the noted late Chief Charlie Redcloud. Also, a band of real Indians will play an equally important part in the pageant, an event that attracts throngs from all over the country.

The stately white ten gallon Stetson were personal gifts from Beery to Bill and Ruth as they are known here, which they proudly wear in Cheyenne.

Local Farmers Are Cashing In
On State Plan To Provide
Native Trees

One Lawrence county farmer has been raising and selling Christmas trees for several years, while a number of others have planted them in the last year or two, and will be able to market them in a few more years, it was learned today.

The idea of growing native trees for Christmas tree trade was advanced by Prof. F. T. Murphy of State college forestry extension department, who states that within the next ten years, the production of native trees will be around 200,000 or more annually.

The largest grower in the county at present is R. D. Walters of Mahoning township, who has been marketing the trees for several years, having started his plantings about 1923.

Rain No Deterrent To Calvary Crowds

Large Attendance At Sunday
Services In East New Castle
Tabernacle

In spite of the heavy rain there was a large attendance at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle to hear the Allen-Miller musical evangelists. Only a few seats were vacant as Harold Allen preached from the text, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the spirit is spirit." In the earlier part of the program, the entire group used many of the fourteenth musical instruments to portray in music the story of the Prodigal Son.

In the morning Harold Allen spoke to the Presbyterian church in East New Castle while Price Allen traveled out to Castletown to conduct the morning worship service in the Harmony Baptist church. An afternoon meeting was also held during which Price Allen spoke from the second chapter of Hebrews on the theme, "Why Did Christ Come Into the World?"

Tonight Rev. Joseph McCaba, a missionary to Africa on furlough, will speak concerning his activities and experiences in Africa. He will illustrate his message by casting pictures taken in Africa on the screen.

At 7:30 this evening the Allen-Miller party will bring with them another member of the Allen family, Miss Gertrude Allen, a pianist and soprano soloist, who is just returning east after visiting Rev. Warren Allen, another brother, in Keokuk, Iowa.

Still, at least one crooner is a human being.

Administration Struggles To Hold Sessions To Pass Roosevelt Measures

SUBSTITUTE COURT BILL IS HELD BACK

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 27.—A "go home now" rebellion swept house and senate today while administration leaders struggled to hold a reluctant congress in session long enough to enact the legislative program favored by President Roosevelt.

This program, facing a hazardous future, included new wage and hour legislation, a new housing act and bills to extend sugar import quotas, close tax loopholes and reform the judicial procedure in lower federal courts.

Postpone Issues

There was overwhelming sentiment on Capitol Hill to pass only those measures encountering little or no opposition, and postpone all controversial issues until next year. This sentiment increased in the face of undercover threats of filibusters against major legislation and the failure of the administration to heal the wounds incurred in the senate's five-month battle over the president's supreme court bill.

Administration leaders planned to hold back the judicial reform bill until other legislation is enacted. Foes of the president's original bill, who have drafted the substitute dealing only with minor federal courts, were willing to go along with this program for a few days but threatened to force a final vote on it by the end of the week.

This maneuver was reported to have the backing of Vice President Garner, who favors adjournment of congress by August 5. Some other important Democrats, who fear further legislative rows will serve only to create permanent schisms in the party, will support it.

Strange Dialect Puzzles Authorities

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., July 27.—School authorities have discovered five boys in this city, ranging in age from six to 14 years, who are unable to speak any known language. The boys, all brothers, conversed among themselves in a system of elemental sounds that are a cross between baby talk and stone age grunts and signs.

Their peculiar lack of speech was discovered when they entered school. Teachers were able to elicit no response from them to questioning and they did not talk to the other children. The only sounds they uttered were in their rare conversations with each other.

Children Not Normal

Their mother informed school authorities the boys had never learned to speak English, although two daughters in the family are normal. She explained the older boy had been given scarlet fever anti-toxin when a baby and she had been told the anti-toxin impaired his speech organs. As the other boys grew they learned to communicate with their brother but with no one else.

All five were suffering from malnutrition when they entered the school and authorities now are trying to arrange hot meals for them while their teachers attempt to teach them to speak English.

Progress has been slow as there is no basis upon which the teachers can start their instruction. No one but the boys themselves seems to be able to understand their gibberish.

Divorce Decree Is Denied A. E. Hazen

Contention That Wife Deserted Him Is Not Upheld By The Court

In the divorce case of Arthur E. Hazen against Elva Hazen, Judge James A. Chambers handed down an opinion at Lawrence County court this morning in which a decree of divorce is refused.

Hazen asked for a divorce from his wife on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Hazen filed an answer in which she denied that she had deserted her husband.

In reviewing the case, Judge Chambers finds that the couple were married in Mercer, February 17, 1933. At that time the respondent was employed by an Ellwood City firm. The libellant seems to have been unemployed.

Later Hazen took his wife to the home of her grandfather in Butler county, where a child was born. She remained there for eighteen months during which time Hazen is alleged to have contributed very little to her support.

Hazen did not provide a home and Mrs. Hazen again secured employment with an Ellwood City firm. She claims that Hazen never did provide a home for her, and denies that she deserted him. Judge Chambers, in his opinion, finds that Hazen has not made out a case of desertion.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 27.—Thursday, August 12, will be an outstanding day for members of the North Sewickley Presbyterian, Providence Baptist and Concord Methodist churches for on that day they will hold their annual combined picnic. The event this year is scheduled to take place at Ewing Park grove.

Plans for the affair were formulated at a meeting of the various committees held last evening. The following committees were present: Chairman, Fred Swick; secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Zeigler; coffee, Mrs. Eugene Wise, Mrs. J. R. Clarke and Mrs. G. N. Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

In preparation for the coming winter and in anticipation of a decided advance in the price of coal many thrifty and farsighted Ellwood City and vicinity residents are already buying their supply of fuel, we note. Its warm enough for us without "warming up" on the subject of summer coal buying, but its probably a boon to the coal companies during the slack season.

Petitions which were circulated throughout Franklin and North Sewickley townships last week for the purpose of having the question of local option placed on the ballot in the fall primaries in September, were over-subscribed. According to many of the residents of those townships, a determined effort is being made to have the sale of intoxicants voted out for the next four years.

While driving along the old airport road near Fombell on Sunday afternoon, an Ellwood City family noted three young deer along the banks of the Connoquessing Creek, where they were drinking water. They appeared to be quite tame and while the group threw pebbles at them, they didn't seem to notice. One of the boys succeeded in getting a splendid snapshot of the deer.

Page Mr. Ripley, a sign in Westmoreland county bears the opportunity advertisement: Handcuff for Sheriff. Nothing like fitting the name to the job is there?

Credit for this story goes to our grocerymen. One morning an irate customer called him on the phone and said: "You made a mistake in my order last night, I ordered liver, not leather."

While the American Legion Junior Baseball team sponsored by the local legion post are out of the running as far as the national eliminations are concerned, their sponsors and the town's sport fans are proud and satisfied with the victories they have won during the season. Most of all, a member of the legion said, they are well-pleased with the brand of sportsmanship that has been displayed by every member of the team.

Credit for much of the success of local diamond stars is due to the coaches, Bob Robertson and Dave Jones, and to the capable management of J. Lloyd Steckman, and the untiring efforts of their director, "Denny" Schill.

William A. Kern Dies This Morning

Prominent Ellwood City Resident Dies This Morning At The Local Hospital

ELLWOOD CITY, July 27.—Ellwood City lost one of its most prominent and highly respected residents early this morning when William A. Kern, of 221 Spring avenue, succumbed at the Ellwood City hospital following a comparatively brief illness.

Mr. Kern was superintendent of the Steel Car Forge company for thirty-five years until he retired six years ago. He was born on December 12, 1864, at Woodstock, Va. Since the age of twenty years he has been engaged in the steel industry.

He came to Ellwood City in 1893 from Allegheny, Pa., and since that time was one of Ellwood's outstanding residents. A wide assemblage of friends mourn his passing. Mr. Kern was a former member of the Ellwood Rotary club and a member of the Universalist church of Westville, O.

His wife, Mary Ellen Modessitt Kern, preceded him in death six years ago, and a daughter, Miss Edith Kern, died several years ago.

New Discussion Of Billboards In Council Shortly

Council plans to hold another powwow concerning billboards it developed during council session on Monday, following the request of Lou Pearsall that his firm be permitted to erect a sign board 7x13 at Ray street and Croton Ave. He said the firm to which he had sold the board asked him to make the request.

Council referred the request to the city engineer, who said that for some time, at council's order, he had refused to issue permits for billboards.

Council then said the billboard owners would be called into meeting and the entire situation would be gone over.

In the meanwhile council took action to refuse a permit to the Atlantic Refining company for a billboard at Butler avenue and East Washington street, after which it was explained a lattice board instead of a billboard would be erected.

Council ordered Throop months ago to not issue permits for billboards because they alleged owners refused to change some of their boards to conform with the law.

Farr And Louis To Meet Today For First Time

Both Must Appear Before Boxing Commission And Get License For Bout

GARCIA REFUSES OFFER BY JACOBS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 27.—Bash Boul' is wondering how Tommy Farr . . . talkative British heavyweight challenger . . . will act when he meets champion Joe Louis for the first time . . . at the boxing commission meeting today.

If Joe follows precedent . . . he will offer a limp paw . . . cast those cold eyes of his once over his future opponent . . . and promptly forget all about him . . . until he comes shuffling out of his corner intent on knocking Tommy stiff . . . the night of August 26 . . . Both will get licenses and then head for their respective training camps.

Uncle Mike Jacobs has this fight all set . . . but he hit a snag yesterday when he tried to sign up Ceferino Garcia for a shot at Barney Ross' welter title.

Gets Turn Down

Mike offered the Filipino $5,000 . . . but was promptly turned down . . . he has agreed to give Ross $35,000 . . . and he thought Garcia would jump at the chance he has waited for so long . . . But when Mike carried the message . . . he found the Filipino wanted three times as much as Mike offered . . . Maybe the commission . . . which has stood by Garcia . . . will induce him to take the offer . . .

Mike is eager to have the Ross fight . . . because he was the only Jewish boy on the all-star card . . . scheduled for September 17.

Harry Jeffra, Lou Ambers and Fred Apostoli are Italians . . . Sixto Escobar and Pedro Montanez are Puerto Ricans . . . Marcel Thil is French . . . and so if he could stage a battle between a Jewish lad and a Filipino . . . Mike figured he would have a tremendous drawing card.

Mike also revealed today that he was working on a fight between Jim Braddock and Max Baer . . . to be staged either in Chicago or Philadelphia . . . some time in September . . .

United States Wins Davis Cup

Frankie Parker Defeats Charles Hare In Straight Sets At Wimbledon Today

(International News Service)
WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 27.—The United States won the Davis Cup today when Frankie Parker of the United States tennis team defeated Charles Hare of England in straight sets.

The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

The cup now returns to its original home whence it departed in 1927 when the French defeated the Americans.

It was expected that Parker might be able to skim through after a terrific battle. There were many who thought Hare would beat him and that the destiny of the cup would hinge on the outcome of Don Budge's match with Bunny Austin which follows.

But the American school boy quickly showed that the United States had nothing to fear as he outshot, outmaneuvered, outgeneralized and outscored the giant in the opposing court.

The South Side Board of Trade baseball team will have a very important meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at 17 West Long avenue, for the purpose of discussing the game Wednesday night with the K. Pulaski team.

Giants Open At St. Louis Today In Next To Last Western Swing

PHILLIES PLAY AT PITTSBURGH

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 27.—This is the day when the New York Giants and the Boston Bees simultaneously will begin undergoing one of those so-called acid tests which crops out now and again in a baseball race.

The Eastern National league clubs are opening the west after a four-day off-day to permit traveling yesterday, and the Giants are carrying their fight for the pennant out into the backyard of the tough western clubs, while the Bees are continuing their bid for a first division berth in that same vicinity.

Are Crippled Up

The Giants will be without the services of shortstop Dick Bartell and his wrenched back for a couple more days and minus the excellent catching of Gus Mancuso for another week or more, the latter having been overtaken by a broken finger.

But the league champs will turn loose a brand new pitcher on the west, although he has been in baseball for a long, long time. They have recalled the veteran Ben Carr, well from the Jersey City farm to replace the sciatica-stricken Sick Castlemann. Ben's international league record for the season is 12 won and seven lost.

Giants vs Cards

Trailing the Cubs by two games, the Giants opened today at St. Louis while the Bees played at Cincinnati. Hoped of cutting down the fourth place Cards' two game hold on the first division.

Philadelphia was at Pittsburgh and Brooklyn at Chicago.

The American league schedule brought the Yankees back to the stadium here nurturing a five-game lead over the Chicago White Sox and teeling off on their home stand in straight sets.

On their swing through the west the Yanks lost only a game in the standings and in the last couple of days have got their power attack clicking again. Di Maggio, the home run leader, Heinrich, Dickey and others all chiming in.

The White Sox opened today at Washington, Cleveland at Philadelphia and St. Louis in Boston in other American league contests.

Score Is 5 To 4 In County League Game At Lee Avenue Field

Morris held the New Castle Red Sox to five hits last night at Lee avenue field, but lost the decision 5 to 4 to the North Hill boys. The West Siders had nine hits off of Campbell but they couldn't bunch them when needed. This was a county league game.

Campbell fanned eight men and Morris whiffed six men. The only extra base blow of the game was made by Swisher, and it was a double.

Picato, Stevenson and Keely led the hitting for the West Siders with two hits apiece. "Pop" Adams was the only Red Sox player able to solve Morris for more than one hit.

Tonight the Red Sox will play the Lawrence Indies of the City league at Washington high field. "Dutch" Updegraff will do the hurling for the Sox.

Fontana Has Easy Time Subduing Visitors From East Side

Wampum blanked the Merchants of the East Side 11 to 0, in a Lawrence County Baseball circuit tilt yesterday at Wampum. In fact had it not been for Crudell, Fontana might have come through with a no run, not hit, game because Crudell was the lone Merchant to pole a safe clout. Wampum scored nine runs in the first and their other two tallies in the third and fifth. Scala got a pair of triples and a double which placed him at the top of the hitters. The umpire called the game at the end of the sixth inning which caused a complaint by the Merchants.

Hurles No Run, No Hit Game

R. Kneram Of Capitolas Triumphs Over South Hills 1 To 0

R. Kneram, hurler for the Capitolas today, occupied the Hill O'Fame, having pitched a no run, no hit game against South Hills, the Capitolas winning one to nothing on the South Hills field yesterday.

It was a Lawrence County Baseball league game. The Capitolas got their only run in the first frame. Verino pitched a good game for the losers.

Kneram passed two, fanned five and Verino was wild, issuing six free trips, fanning seven but allowing only three hits. The Capitolas made one error behind Kneram while two miscues resulted behind Verino.

Shaffie with two doubles was the hitting star of the game.

At Washington field at 6 p. m. today the Capitolas will oppose Bessemer in a postponed game. Johnny Brinko will probably pitch for the Capitolas.

Representative Of Junior Chamber Of Commerce Presents Idea At Meeting

Howard L. Reynolds, representative of the junior chamber of commerce, appeared before council at their meeting Monday and stated that the organization believes the city should erect a new city building. He expressed the belief that a grant of federal funds could be secured to add to the money the city would need. He requested that the city fathers give the matter consideration.

"Council often has discussed a new city building but no definite action ever has been taken," Councilman J. D. Alexander stated.

"I believe the junior chamber of commerce should be complimented for their interest in civic matters," said Councilman B. F. Butler. "The body is courageous and wants the city to get somewhere," he added.

Councilman J. Myron Rice said the council has awaited ideas from others.

Mr. Reynolds said there's a possibility of the city securing one of several sites and his appearance before the solons was for the purpose of ascertaining if the city officials are interested in such a move.

"I believe that if we can find a buyer for the present city building it will not be difficult for the city to secure a site," Councilman James L. Fink told Reynolds.

Steel Section Shows Support After Early Dip In Market Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 27.—The stock market moved downward today, leaders losing up to a point and more.

The principal restraining influence was the desire to await the outcome of the U. S. Steel directors meeting after the close.

The steel section showed support after an early dip. Big steel moved slightly above its previous close and Bethlehem steadied, but Republic and Youngstown were down.

In utilities, consolidated Edison lost more than a point. Elsewhere in this section declines ran to nearly a point.

Motors were under more pressure. Chrysler slipped more than a point and then came back partially. General Motors was easy awaiting the first half earnings report due tomorrow. Studebaker dipped.

Coppers were down as a group but price changes were fractional. International Nickel was steadier than others.

Farm implements were under pressure. Case Threshing dropped more than a point. Ralls pointed lower.

Commercial Solvents showed strength. Merchandising issues improved. Tobaccos were better. Owens Glass was a strong specialty.

Most of the oils were in supply. Commodities rallied. Cotton rose around 50 cents a bale and wheat a cent a bushel.

The dollar lost further ground in foreign exchanges for a while and then steadied.

The bond market showed a tendency to ease.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Sam Francis of Nebraska, husky fullback who doubles as a weight champion, today appeared to be the most popular choice for the All-American college football team being chosen by a vote of the fans.

With more than 4,000,000 ballots cast, Francis was leading his nearest competitor, Danabon of Notre Dame, by nearly 200,000 votes. Francis drew 873,000 votes, Danabon 679,000. And Ed Jankowski of Wisconsin, 468,000.

Tinsley of Louisiana State, was a heavy favorite among the ends, with Vendt, Ohio State; O'Neill, Notre Dame; and Kelly, Yale, closely grouped behind him.

Wideth of Minnesota and Dangle of Pittsburgh, tackles; Reid, Northwestern, and Glassford, Pittsburgh, guards; Busrak Duquesne, and Svendsen, Minnesota, centers; Huffman, Indiana, and Wilkinson, Minnesota, quarterbacks; and LaRue, Pittsburgh, and Buivid, Marquette, halfbacks, were leaders for their respective positions.

The team finally chosen from among college stars is scheduled to meet the Green Bay Packers of the professional league in a charity game Sept. 1.

Landis Refuses
Probe Comment

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 27.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, czar of baseball, was non-committal today on the question of a reported investigation by his office into horse-race betting by major league ball players.

Judge Landis said he had "no information" on the subject. The recent dismissal of Rogers Hornsby as manager of the St. Louis Browns, assertedly because of Hornsby's horse race betting, gave rise to the reports on an investigation there.

The St. Louis Star-Times quoted Judge Landis as saying he would "dig to the very bottom" of reported gambling by major league players.

Barkley Faced By Difficulties

New Senate Leader Wears Frown Instead Of Smile Over Task Facing Him

MUST PRODUCE OR BE CALLED BUNGLER

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, July 27—Senator Aiken W. Barkley, of Kentucky generally is pictured with a broad smile on his face.

It is artificial, put on for the photographers. Barkley hasn't much to smile about; he has his worries.

He won the Democratic senatorial leadership to be sure, but it is a leadership which is a terrible headache. It wasn't even much of a compliment to him, either—37 to 38. If the 37 Democratic senators who voted against him refuse to follow his lead, and if the small Republican group joins them, he isn't in fact, a majority leader, he leads only a minority.

It is not so bad to be the leader of a party which has to admit, frankly, that it is a minority, like Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, generalissimo of the Republicans' senatorial faction.

McNary simply bushwhacks. That is all he is expected to do. If he is beaten folk say, "Well, what of it, with 76 Democrats in the senate versus a mere 16 Republicans? Not counting four miscellaneous, at least two of whom are pro-New Dealers. But if, because of a lot of Democratic flops to the Republican side, McNary scores a victory, it's wonderful. What marvelous management by the Oregonian!

But if Barkley is licked notwithstanding a nearly 5-to-1 nominal advantage, it is difficult to escape the conclusion that he has bungled. And if he wins it is no particular credit to him.

TWO TYPES OF GENERALS
In warfare there are two kinds of generals.

One kind is triumphant in battle. The other kind effects masterly retreats.

The latter kind isn't to be despised. George Washington was one of the species. He kept on retreating until the victors could not stand it any longer and were defeated.

Maybe Barkley will prove himself equal to managing a successful retreat from the supreme court fight.

But it is a harder strategic maneuver than McNary's.

It isn't anything to be smiled about. It involves serious thought to save his party from disintegration. McNary can afford to let nature take its course. Barkley has got to do some celebrating.

BARKLEY ROUGH HEWN
He isn't at all times a very smiling senator.

He is a rough-hewn individual, who grew up on a farm and has a farmer's individualistic manner. They say in his agricultural days he wanted to be a drygoods store clerk, in order to wear fashionable clothes and be "folksy."

He has got over that. If he has any diplomacy in his system I haven't discovered it. He hasn't it in his contacts with newspapermen anyway.

(Senator Harrison doesn't bulge with it, either.)

NOT "DEAR ALBEN"
Barkley does not like to be spoken to as "Dear Alben."

President Roosevelt so addressed him in his letter to "Dear Alben" on the supreme court subject, directly after the death of the Democratic late leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson.

It was supposed to imply that the White House had chosen to designate "Dear Alben" as its senate new leader, without awaiting the senate Democrats voice in the matter. And the senate Democrats thought they ought to be left to make their own selections.

So Senator Barkley generally is addressed, not on the senate floor (that would be unparliamentary), but in the lobbies and corridors, as "Dear Alben." If that makes him smile at all, it is with an effort.

It is a practical joke, and he doesn't like it.

Needy Boys To Spend Week At Boy Scout Camp

Group Left Yesterday Morning For Camp Phillips For Week In Camp

Thirty-seven excited but happy youngsters left the Boy Scout office Monday for a week of new experiences at Camp Phillips, the Lawrence county Boy Scout camp along the Slippery Rock creek. To most of these boys it will be their first time in a camp, to many, the first time away from the congested sections of our city.

These boys, ranging in age from 11 years to 16 years, have been given this opportunity through the generosity of our civic clubs, interested in the welfare of the less chance boys. The clubs feel every boy will be greatly benefited by their new experiences and will return to the city streets with a broader outlook on life. They will learn of the out-of-doors, away from hard city streets, and the many pleasures to be derived from living in a camp close to nature.

This is the first year for the scout camp to devote one of its weeks to less chance boys but the fine response by the civic clubs to a plea for funds to care for these boys proves such a week is needed and it is planned to make this a yearly occurrence.

Among those contributing were the Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Elks, the scout office and the picnic committee of the Tin Mills.

Before departing from the office, each boy was given a medical examination by Doctors Cleland, Popp and Rogers. Transportation to camp was furnished by J. F. Rentz, the Pennsylvania Power company and the scout executive.

The cooperation of all these men, together with the cooperation to be given by the scout staff at camp will mean a happy week for each boy. Visitors are cordially invited to visit the camp on Wednesday evening, the regular visiting night.

Sixty Lads To Be Given Camp Period At Camp F. L. Rentz

Civic Clubs And Individuals Make Possible Camp Trip For Many

When the camping season has closed at Camp F. L. Rentz, the local Y. M. C. A. camp, a total of 60 boys who are in the underprivileged class, will have had a week camping experience at this camp.

Enough funds have now been secured to take care of 60 such lads, and a few of this number will receive the camp privileges each week of the Rentz camping season. The funds have all been contributed by civic clubs and individuals of New Castle who are interested in the advancement of youth.

Field Offices To Be Abandoned

All field offices, that is the county offices of the Works Progress Administration, are to be abandoned within the next two weeks, it was learned today. This will mean that all projects will be handled through the district offices in the future.

The effect of the new order will be to bring a number of the people now employed in the county or field offices into the district office. The Lawrence county unit has been and is now in the same building as the district offices on South Mill street.

Cut Weeds Or City Will And Charge Expense

B. F. Butler, director of streets, today issued an ultimatum to owners of vacant lots on which weeds are growing.

He said he would give owners of lots on which there are weeds, ten days time to cut them, or he would have city employees cut the weeds and charge the cost against the property.

Butler, declared that his action was taken owing to complaints of other residents who claim that the weeds give them hay fever and caused other sickness.
